

PUTNAM VALLEY Grange GARDENING WORKSHOPS 2023

Just because we really haven't had winter, that's no reason not to start getting ready for Spring!

The Putnam Valley Grange wants to help:

Planting for Birds and Pollinators: Secrets to a Vibrant Ecosystem

Sat., March 25, 2023 at 2:00 pm NEW DATE

Join CCE Master Gardener Catherine Serreau-Thompson as she helps us to explore both the birds and the bees. What do birds need that we can provide? What is pollination? How does it work? What can we do to help? This workshop will teach a variety of planting strategies most likely to attract both pollinators and birds to your home garden.

21st Century Gardening

Saturday, April 15, 2023 at 2:00 pm

What are plant communities? The New Perennial Movement? How about Matrix Planting? How are gardens thriving on the NYC Highland? Join CCE Master Gardener Janis Butler to explore what we can expect from climate change and how you can prepare your property to deal with it.

At the Putnam Valley Grange

128 Mill Street (at Peekskill Hollow Rd.)

Putnam Valley, NY 10579

For more information and to register:

Visit: www.PutnamValleyGrange.org/backyardfarming

The Grange is a national, non-profit fraternal organization dedicated to the preservation of agriculture and rural life.

Cornell Cooperative Extension
Putnam County

