

PUTNAM VALLEY GRANGE
presents this hands-on backyard farming workshop

GROWING SHIITAKE MUSHROOMS

Saturday, 2–4 pm
November 9, 2013

Putnam Valley Grange
Mill Street at Adams Corners
$20 members; $25 non-members

Did you know that shiitake mushrooms are delicious, healthful and can be grown on a log in your very own backyard? Educator Jennifer Stengle, from Cornell Cooperative Extension—Putnam County, will discuss the life cycle of the mushroom, its preferred growing media, and guide participants in preparing their own shiitake log. For persons 13 years old and up. Fee includes all materials and use of power tools.

PRE-REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED by November 4.

For more info or to sign-up:

PutnamValleyGrange@gmail.com

845-528-2565

The Grange is a national non-profit fraternal organization dedicated to the preservation of agriculture and rural life. Your participation in this event helps us continue to serve and build our community. We welcome new members, volunteers and donations.

Visit our website: www.putnamvalleygrange.org